

Interested in Learning to Play the Irish Harp? There's never been a better time to start!

The Riley School of Irish Music offers a very special deal to those wishing to learn or improve their harp skills. Students of the Riley School have an exclusive opportunity to rent one of three separate styles of harps at an amazingly low rental rate!

If you are interested in renting a harp as part of this program, it is essential that you contact us prior to the first day of classes so we can arrange to have your harp available for you to play.
Please email - sylvia@rileyirishmusic.com

Harpsicle® Harp (recommended for those just starting out) – has no Bridge pins so levers cannot be added. This is the perfect harp for beginners or the casual harpist.

Flatsicle™ Harp (recommended for intermediate beginners or anyone who already plays another instrument at an intermediate level) – comes with bridge pins on all strings and modified Robinson sharpening levers on the C and F strings.

Grand Harpsicle® Harp (recommended for intermediate to advanced players) - is one of the most unique harps available today. It is an electric harp, but if desired it can also be played acoustically. It is a full range harp with 33 strings, but weighs no more than a professional electric guitar. It can be played as a floor harp or strapped on to play while standing and moving. It can even be played like a lap harp used with the Harpsicle® Stick. The detachable stand can be adjusted to various heights to best fit the player.

- Great rental fees, payable on the 1st day of the school quarter:
 - o Harpsicle® Harp is $25/quarter
 - o Flatsicle Harp® is $50/quarter
 - o Grand Harpsicle Harp® is $50/quarter
- Riley School students are eligible for a discount on the purchase of any instrument from Rees Harps.

Rees Harps Inc. is a small family business based in Rising Sun, Indiana, but is known worldwide for its high quality, custom made harps, as well as great customer service. Their harps are featured on the 2 time Grammy winning CD with YoYo Ma and Marta Cook, Grammy winning CD with Paul Winters and Carol Thompson and Hollywood movie soundtracks. Rees Harps are also played by All Ireland Harp Champion Maire Ni Chathasaigh; pedal/lever wizard Ray Pool, founder of the International Harp Therapy Program; Christina Tourin; and a list that continues on and on of huge names in the harp world.

The Riley School of Irish Music is a Cincinnati based non-profit organization dedicated to teaching the art of traditional Irish music. The School was founded in 1996 and serves 80-100 students each quarter, offering classes in harp, flute, tin whistle, fiddle, bodhran, concertina, accordion, banjo, mandolin, bouzouki, guitar, piano, vocals, and singing in English and Irish. Students develop performance skills through weekly group classes, ensemble rehearsals and participation in regional and national competitions. The Riley School serves the community by performing at dances, festivals, parades, and fund-raising events. The faculty includes members of several regional Celtic bands plus John Skelton of the legendary House Band, and world class-instrument builder Dave Copley, who makes Irish style wooden flutes.
